Every land owner should plant the black walnut. It is the most valuable of trees. No tree can nearly approach it in yearly future value. Prof. Brown, of Ontario, estimates from an experience of his own that an acreplanted with this tree may in fifty years produce a value of $18,350. Prof Beal, from his experience thought this estimate too low. Think of a mean annual income of $322 from an acre of trees, the trees and planting of which could be done for less than $50. At least every waste place, especially if the soil is rich, should be planted with the black walnut. It is a sturdy, handsome, vigorous tree, easily grown, because no animal and only one insect feeds on it. The white walnut or butternut is also a good thing to plant. DOCTORING OLD TIME."

A Striking Picture-A Revival of Old Time Simplicities.

In one of Harper's issues is given a very fine illustration of Roberts' cele rated painting, known as "Doctoring Old Time." It represents a typical old-imer, with his bellows, iblowing the fust from an ancient clock, with its cords and weights carefully secured. One of these clocks in this generation is appreciated only as a rare relic.

The suggestive name, "Doctoring Old Fime," brings to our mind another version

We learn, through a reliable source, for years investigating the form medical preparations used in the beginning of this century, and even before, with a view of ascertaining why people in our great-grandfathers' time enjoyed a health and physical vigor so seldom found in the present generation. They now think they have secured the secret or secrets. They find that the prevailing opinion that then existed, that "Nature as a remedy for every existing disorder," was true, and acting under this belief, our grandparents used the common herbs and plants. Continual trespass upon the forest domain, has made these herbs less abundant and has iriven them further from civilization, was true, and acting under this until they have been discarded, as remedial agents because of the difficulty of obtaining them.

H. H. Warner, proprietor of Warner's safe cure and founder of the Warner observatory, Rochester, N. Y., has been pressing investigations in this direction, into the annals of old family histories, until he has secured some very valuable formulas, from which his firm is now preparing medicines, to be sold by all

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin remedies." Among these medicines will be a "sarsaparilla," for the blood and cough and consumption remedy," "Lo Cabin hair tonic," "Log Cabin extract, for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh, called "Log Cabin rose cream." Among the list is also a "Log Cabin plaster," and a "Log Cabin liver pill."

From the number of remedies, it will be seen that they do not propose to cure all diseases with one preparation. It is believed by many that with these remedies a new era is to dawn upon suffer-ing humanity and that the close of the nineteenth century will see these roots and herbs, as compounded under the title of Warner's Log Cabin remedies, as popular as they were at its beginning. Although they come in the form of proprietary medicines, yet they will be none the less welcome, for suffering humanity has become tired of modern doctoring and the public has great confidence in any remedies put up by the firm of which H. H. Warner is the head. The people have become suspicious of the effects of doctoring with poisonous drngs. Few realize the injurious effects following the prescriptions of many modern physicians. These effects of poisonous drugs, already prominent, will become more pronounced in coming generations. Therefore we can cordially wish the old-fashioned new remedies the best of success.
